

SPYING THE YACHT

FOR MANY THEY are a fantasy, for others the love of their lives. Whatever ones' motives for heading down to the Dubai International Boat Show at the Dubai International Marine Club, Mina Seyahi last week, the event was positively buzzing with the energy emanating from super yacht admirers.

Among the luxury cruisers on view, activities for guests also included deep-sea diving lessons and a supercar display.

The main attraction, however, was seeing how grand these boats can be. Decks handcrafted in teak, interiors swathed in silk and leather and master cabins straight out of the pages of a 1960s St. Tropez lifestyle magazine, the boat show and its subjects caught every visitors' imagination.
